SENATOR THOMAS
CALLS THRIFT BIG
LESSON OF WAR

Solon Asserts Efficiency Would Save People of U. S. $600,000,000 Each Year. Economy May Save Day.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Ordinary efficiency in public administration would save the people of this country $600,000,000 a year, United States Senator Charles S. Thomas, of Colorado, told the Association of Life Insurance Presidents in a thrift conference which began today. Senator Thomas is a member of the senate committee of finance. "The war leaves us a legacy of a stupendous debt," declared Senator Thomas. "It will reach, if it does not exceed, $15,000,000,000, or twice as much as the combined debt of the allied nations, including Russia, when the war began. The annual interest upon this stupendous sum will be $1,400,000,000, nearly twice the net total of the nation's annual prewar expenditure. This means a vastly increased rate and radius of taxation. The people must bear the burden, for Germany can not make indemnity. They will bear it willingly if economy in public administration and the application of every dollar to the public needs shall become the policy of the government. They will not and should not be content if the gross extravagance of the past continue."

Senator Thomas declared that American shores have been beset with a mass of humanity apparently unassimilable. The immigrant colonies have become "national plague spots," holding places for all the ills of the century. "Disruption of the central powers, he believed, would remove all restrictions upon immigration of their people. 'The dam,' he declared, 'must be erected on this side of the Atlantic.' All kinds.

"Your city typifies the general situation. It contains the germs of every social and political disorder. Parts of its press are constant and competent sewers of sedition. From such congenial soil was bred the black hand and I. W. W. A powder magazine unguarded is not more dangerous to the community. "Into the face of this sinister menace wealth flaunts the orgies of the great white way. It thus supplies the East Side with text and justification. population, sullen with the vulgar of poverty, confronted with the vulgar and ostentatious display of lavish extravagance, will not always remain quiescent. An explosion is inevitable. It is a sinister fact that, excepting Lenin, nearly all the leaders of Russian Bolshevism graduated from the swarming centers of New York, Chicago

INDUSTRIAL CREED
IS RETURN TO PEACE

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Announces Tenets for Capital, Management, Labor and the Community Before Congress

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 5.—An industrial creed for the four parties to industry—capital, management, labor and the community—was outlined by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in an address today before the war emergency and reconstruction conference in session here. Asserting that capital and labor are partners with common interests and not enemies, Mr. Rockefeller stated tenets of his industrial creed. These included advancement by industry of social as well as material well-being of employees, opportunity for employees to earn a living under conditions of fair wage, reasonable hours and proper industrial environment, reward for initiative and efficiency, machinery for uncovering and promptly adjusting grievances, adequate representation of all the industrial parties with annual joint conference to assure industrial harmony and prosperity. In each plant, with this system extended "to include all plants in the various nations."

Mr. Rockefeller added: "As the leaders of industry face this period of reconstruction, what will their attitude be? Will it be that of the stand-patters who take no account of the extraordinary changes which have come over the face of the civilized world, and have taken place in the minds of men, who say, 'What has been and is must continue to be with our backs to the wall we will fight it out along the old lines or go down with the ship, who attempt stubbornly to resist the inevitable and bring down selves to the teeth, invite open warfare with the other parties in industry, the certain outcome of which will be financial loss, inconvenience and suffering to all, the development of bitterness and hatred, and in the end, the bringing about through legislation, if not by force, of conditions far more drastic and radical than could now be amicably arrived at through mutual concession in friendly conference. "Or will it be an attitude, in which I myself profoundly believe, which recognizes the inherent right and justice of the principles underlying the new order, which recognizes that mighty changes are inevitable, many of them desirable, which are being forced upon us, and that we must adjust ourselves to them in a spirit of cooperation which will insure to all those concerned adequate representation and opportunity to earn a fair wage under proper working and living conditions, with such restrictions as to hours as shall leave time not alone for food and sleep, but also for recreation and the enjoyment of the higher things of life."

FL'S DEATH TOLL
MORE THAN 300,000

Estimate Fatalities From Epidemic in U. S. May Reach 350,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Between 300,000 and 350,000 deaths from influenza and pneumonia have occurred among the civilian population of the United States since Sept. 15, according to estimates of the public health service. These calculations were based on reports from cities and states keeping accurate records and public health officials believe they are conservative. The epidemic persists, but deaths are much less numerous, according to reports reaching here. A recrudescence of the disease now is occurring in many communities throughout the country. This is believed to be sporadic and not to indicate a general renewal of severe epidemic conditions.

Insurance companies have been hard hit by the epidemic, government reports indicate, although there are no figures available here. The total losses sustained by the companies, the government insured liabilities of more than $170,000,000 in connection with life insurance carried by soldiers in army camps not including those in Europe.

About 20,000 deaths occurred in the camps in the United States, war department records show.

HARDEN PICTURES
GERMANY'S CHANGE

LONDON, Dec. 5. (British wireless service.)—Maximilian Harden, in his paper, the Zukunft, gives a picture of Germany in the days preceding and following the armistice. According to him, the late Albert Ballin, director of the Hamburg-American line, was called in by the military men as the only German who could tell the emperor the truth.

There was a terrible scene," he continues, "and a lady's fan threatened the ship owner."

There was a second interview, but nothing came of it and the facts suddenly burst upon Germany with the resignation of Gen. Ludendorff, which came with the violence of an unexpected thunderstorm.

Mr. Harden bitterly denounces the sudden conversion of all the junker elements to democracy and to support of the government.

"Yesterday," he declares, "they were bloodthirsty with the will to victory. Today they are the spirits, raising a disgraced civilization up to pure glory."

He tells the German people that their paper money and loans are worthless and "only the labor of our sons and grandsons can give them value."

SWISS WILL CARE
FOR U. S. PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—To transport the 2,200 American soldiers from the German prison camps at Bastani to the French border, the Swiss government has offered to provide fully equipped trains, the Swiss Red Cross was informed by its representatives in Switzerland. The Americans will be taken to France by way of Switzerland.

The Red Cross has asked Dr. Cresson, a Swiss physician with considerable experience in prison camp work, to go into Germany to expedite the movement of wounded or sick prisoners.

COMMISSIONED AIRMEN MAY FLY EACH YEAR
BY CHARLES S. HAYDEN,
(Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Airk field aviators who accept commissions in the reserve corps will be allowed to fly at army posts for at least two weeks of each year. This is in accord with the plan which provides for calling back these reserve officers every year for a short period each year, enabling them to maintain their proficiency with these machines in the air and, should the emergency arise, they may be called back into service as commissioned officers without further training or instruction.
